THE NEW HUE

France-based paint brand Argile has recently launched in the UK with a showroom on the King's Road within the Chelsea Design Quarter. Entrepreneur and paint expert Jean Frédéric Nothomb, along with colour specialist Pierre Bonnefille, launched the company in 2006 to offer odourless, superior trade-quality paint with a timeless palette and made from organic pigments that have been inspired by the natural world. Shown here are Roussillon on the lower walls and Sienna Brulee on the upper walls, both £62 for 2.5ltr, Argile.

GET THE MESSAGE

Studio Ashby has teamed up with the charity and social enterprise Fine Cell Work to create linen cushions. The colours were inspired by a photo of David Hockney at his home on the West Coast of America and each design features an embroidered quote. Nothing but Blue Skies cushion, £95, Studio Ashby for Fine Cell Work.

SELF SERVE STORAGE

The Madison bar cabinet is the epitome of stylish storage. Available in a range of finishes, the bar includes a shelf, drawers, wine glass holders and bottle compartments. We adore the Glossy Noir Desir Supermarble finish, with its rich tones and maximalist veining. Madison, £5,831, Studio Contromano for Bontempi Casa.

ART MOVEMENT

The importance of art within interiors has always been prevalent, with designers often using art as the origin for a scheme. Villa Nova's latest collection, a collaboration with Kyra Cane, explores the artist's ceramic vessels to produce abstract fabrics and wallcoverings that simulate the movement of the paintbrush and texture of the clay. Curtain in Drifting in Carbon, £70m, Villa Nova x Kyra Cane. →
